“WaterBlocks was founded with the mission to provide a superior flood protection system to help save lives, communities and our environment,” said Joe Daniluk, Founder & Chairman of Locking Line Barriers Corporation and creator of WaterBlocks™. “...and when we heard about the tragic events at the Harvest Music Festival, we knew we had to take it to the next level and that’s when ARMOR was born and is here, back in Las Vegas, to Protect and Serve this and all communities around our country.”

About Us:

WaterBlocks™ is a registered Trademark and dba of Locking Line Barriers Corporation. WaterBlocks™ are steel-reinforced, interconnecting plastic barriers that link together to create a watertight wall of protection. What makes WaterBlocks™ so special is their unique design, which allows them to be both rapidly-deployed, efficiently-assembled and removed, while providing multiple use applications.

WaterBlocks™ have many useful applications including crowd/traffic safety and control, construction site protection, natural resource conservation and more.

Looking ahead, Locking Line Barriers has also developed an integrated business model for long-term success and growth in our new Barrier Sharing Network; a forward-thinking solution that enables communities to have timely access to WaterBlocks™ on a cost-effective, as-needed basis.

Flooding strikes with little notice, and WaterBlocks™ empowers municipalities, governmental agencies and NGO's to be better equipped with a new tool to protect lives, communities and our environment.
